THE BALL.

Tomorrow night will take place the most important social affair of the school year, the Students' Ball. Of course, nothing else is expected, but that every George Washington student that can get together the price will be there. College, Medical, Law, and Dental will mingle as one great whole and the University will see herself as she is.

You will regret it if you don't go.

WILSON ELECTED FOOTBALL MANAGER.

In the election of a manager for the foot ball team for next year, held last Thursday, E. C. Wilson, of the Junior Medical Class, was easily successful over his competitors. Mr. Wilson has all the qualities to make a successful manager, having already been largely concerned in university affairs. Last year he was President of his class and is now Business Manager of The Mall. No better man could have been selected.

The result of the election was as follows:

	Law	Med	Col	Total
Wilson	143	63	101	307
Chipman	9	90	12	111
Bragaw	43	1	9	53
Andrews	4	2	100	106
Total	199	56	222	577

REVISED BASEBALL SCHEDULE.

The first practice of the baseball squad will be held in the National Guard gymnasium on next Friday afternoon. Capt. Moffit Bradley had not expected to start work until the weather would permit outdoor practice, but as the first game is scheduled earlier than usual, it has been decided to devote a couple of weeks to muscle-limbering indoors.

Since the provisional list of games was announced some time ago the schedule has been revised. A series of two games has been arranged with Virginia, the first of which will be played here on March 31 and the second at Charlottesville on May 9. A three days' trip to Lexington, Va., has been arranged. On May 5, Virginia Military Institute will be played, and on May 7 and 8 the team will meet Washington and Lee. Another new game is the one with Gallaudet, on May 12.

The official schedule follows:

March 22—Navy at Annapolis.

March 29—West Virginia at Washington.

March 31—Virginia at Washington.

April 3—Penn State at Washington.

April 13—Lehigh at Washington.

April 14—Columbia at Washington.

April 16—Syracuse at Washington.

April 18—Carlisle Indians at Washington.

April 24—Washington and Lee at Washington.

April 25—Georgia at Washington.

April 28—Western Maryland at Washington.

May 5—Virginia Military Institute at Lexington, Va.

May 7—Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.

May 8—Washington and Lee at Lexington, Va.

May 9—Virginia at Charlottesville.

May 12—Gallaudet at Washington.

May 19—Johns Hopkins at Baltimore.

May 26—Georgetown at Georgetown Field.

TRACK.

The trials to select the two-mile relay team, which is to run Virginia at Convention Hall Saturday night, February 24, were held Monday evening. The following men made the team:

S. T. Lorando, College, '08.

A. D. Stivers, College, '06.

R. F. Fleming, College, '08.

W. S. Babcock, Law, '07.

With this bunch of fast men a good race is promised and all loyal students should be present to see George Washington win the Southern Intercollegiate Championship in the two-mile relay.

A CORRECTION.

Through somebody's error last week, an advertisement read that Harris-Ewing were making all pictures for the Mall. That is not true—the official photographers for the Mall are both Bell and Harris-Ewing, and students may go to either for their pictures.

STUDENTS' BALL, FEBRUARY 23rd.

MEDICAL

The Medical Editor feels indebted to Mr. A. J. Wheeler, of the Sophomore Class for his good work in editing the medical columns last week. We believe that most of our readers will agree with us when we say that his work was second to none in that issue.

Messrs. McAfee and Sterne of the senior class, and Messrs. Holmes, Mosher, and Waring of the junior class took the examination held at Garfield Hospital last week for the position of extern. There are three vacancies to be filled. May the best men get the positions.

Don't forget the Convocation Exercises to be held on the morning of February 22, "George Birthington's Wash Day."

THE STUDENT'S BALL.

Last year there were about ten times as many medical students at the ball as there were men from any of the other departments. Every man who went had the time of his life and those who didn't go are still wearing long faces. The long face men are apt to be among the absent ones this year, but if they are we warn them that the supero-inferior diameters of their physiognomies will be so increased that it will take a surgical operation to bring them back to normal. Let every disciple of Terpsichore be at the New Williard on the evening of February 23.

ON—"THAT'S ALL."

Mr. E. C. Wilson of The Hatchet Class was elected Manager of the George Washington University Football Team for the season of 1906, on Thursday, February 15, by a large majority.

We might be wrong, but we believe that Mr. Wilson will do much toward making the football season of 1906 the most successful in the history of the University. He has already demonstrated that he has a rare business ability and that he possesses the proper university spirit is doubted by none.

"E. C." has been active in University affairs since the first day he entered college. He was Vice-President of his class in 1903-04; President of his class, Secretary of Association of Class Presidents and Captain of class Football Team in 1904-05. This year he is Chairman of the Executive Committee of his class and Business Manager of The Mall. Wilson is a member of the Phi Chi and the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternities.

We congratulate you, Wilson, on your election and hereby pledge you our hearty support.

G. W. U. MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The George Washington University Medical Society held its regular monthly meeting in University Hall at 8:00 o'clock Thursday evening, February 15. Dr. A. B. Hooe presided and welcomed the visitors.

A large majority of the physicians of Washington, several out of town guests and the gentlemen of the senior and junior medical classes were present, the two latter being guests of the Society.

A very interesting illustrated lecture on "The Vitagraph and Medicine" was delivered by Dr. Walter B. Chase, a well known physician of Boston. Dr. Chase, who is an enthusiast on his subject, dealt largely with epilepsy and laid particular stress upon the advantages which could be derived from the biograph in instructing students and doctors of medicine. He claims that, when his system has been brought a little nearer perfection, he will be able to show, upon the screen "a bacillus eating a biscuit."

A smoker and buffet supper was tendered Dr. Chase at Rauchers.

The gentlemen of the junior and senior classes take this means of thanking the Society for the courtesy shown them and venture to say, in the words of the prophet, "Don't let this be the first time."

PHI CHI INSTITUTES CHAPTER AT GEORGETOWN.

The members of the Grand Chapter of the Phi Chi Fraternity came to Washington from Richmond last week, where they had been in attendance upon a Grand Chapter meeting. While here they instituted a chapter for the Georgetown Medical College, granted charter and initiated the charter members.

The Grand Chapter was entertained by the Phi Chapter of the Phi Chi Fraternity on Tuesday, February 13, at the Chapter house, 1307 H Street N. W., a buffet lunch was served and a general good time indulged in.

The gentlemen of the junior and senior classes appreciate very much the consideration and liberality of Professor Bovee in furnishing them reprints of his articles read before the medical societies and written for the medical journals.

But there is always something unpleasant about that American desire of "getting something for nothing." The grasping actions of SOME of the gentlemen of the two upper classes caused us to "blush" (like the proverbial school-girl) with shame and mortification,—for them.

We are in the habit of scanning closely the faults of others to make sure they are not their virtues; but search as we may and be as charitable as we will we find no excuse for the "football rush" which occurred after Doctor Bovee's lecture last Saturday morning. If we were in the graded schools, or even the high school, we could pass such things by as the actions of children who would learn better; but for men who will in a year or less be graduated into the highest profession known to art or science it is inexcusable.

Please note that we state "actions of SOME of the gentlemen" and would have that clearly understood, for most of the members of the upper classes are ready to sneeze at and frown upon such conduct.

We hope this will not occur again. If anything is to be distributed let someone take charge of it and see that each person is served and that it is done in an orderly manner.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

On account of the work every one has been doing for the Chemistry examination, which was held Saturday, February 17, as scheduled, there are but few events to chronicle this week.

One more examination has come and gone. Would that the Physiological Chemistry were off our hands. The general opinion seems to be that the Organic was "pretty stiff."

The name and fame of Mr. Wheatley has been rendered immortal by our composer and songster, Mr. Ong.

The Sophomore class had its picture taken Monday evening, the 19th. We hoped Mr. Avery would shave off those whiskers before getting in it.

We learn that Mr. Rozelle has given up his position to take that of one at night which will enable him to take the day course. That is fine and we wish him success.

NEEDHAM DEBATING SOCIETY.

"The best debate of the season." That was the verdict of the critic at the close of the inter-society preliminaries last Friday. Resolved, That the Panama Canal should be built by the contract system, rather than by the United States Government directly, was the subject of this most spirited and interesting discussion. It was simply nip and tuck between the six contestants for places on the team. After a long consultation, the judges decided that Messrs. Lundy, Beeler and Kennedy, with Mr. Henshaw as alternate, should represent this Society. From the applause which greeted this announcement, it was evident that every one present was satisfied that the "best men had won."

Inasmuch as the same subject will be discussed at the inter-society debate on March 2, it would not be policy to enter into an analysis of the arguments presented. Suffice to say that from the general character of the debate last Friday great things are expected in the inter-society contest.

Owing to the Students' Ball there will be no meeting of the Society next Friday.

BUST OF REV. GEORGE WHITFIELD SAMSON PRESENTED.

At the assembly in University Hall yesterday, a bust of Rev. George Whitfield Samson, D. D., President of Columbian College from 1859 to 1871 was presented to and received by the University.

DEBATE.

INTER-STATE PRINTING CO., 14 WASHINGTON, D. C.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1906.

On this day, the birthday of him with whose memory every feature of the University, from its founding to its name, is so closely linked,

the thought comes, how to most fitttingly observe his memory. To students of the George Washington

University it is not only on February 22 that the life of him whose name we bear is recalled, but every day words are spoken and associations are suggested that keep the Father of his country constantly in our minds, so that this day does not come to us as to other students, as a sudden recalling of his memory.

to be taken up no more till a year hence. Consequently, celebrating his memory to-day is somewhat like greeting a friend who is always with us day by day and year by year, those concerned in the growth of this University have been erecting to his memory a monument more enduring than marble, leading thousands of young men to intellectual independence, as he led his people to political freedom. He himself, would ask for no greater honor than that his will, that a national university be established in the nation's capital, be fulfilled, and that it bear his name. In no other respect did he show greater wisdom and a more fatherly care for his people than in his far-sighted provision in sowing the seeds of what was to grow into a realization of his hopes.

To-day, then, we can, without astentation, come before him as good stewards and lay at his feet these fruits of our labor and of those who have preceded. We can truthfully say that in return for ten talents we bring a hundred-fold, that we bring to honor his memory this university of his conception, as a monument that will grow till it shall be looked to from the center to the extreme borders of this land. Then can we say: "Ours is no fitful hallowing of thy memory, beginning with the morning and laid aside at evening, but a continual, daily striving to build here this realization of thy will."

NASHVILLE CONVENTION.

The Student Volunteers of North America will hold their fifth regular convention at Nashville, Tenn., from February 28 to March 4. Those who may attend this convention are: Students from some five hundred universities and other educational institutions in United States and Canada; about two hundred missionaries of non-Christian lands; representatives from all missionary boards in the United States and Canada; National and state secretaries of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.; national representatives of various young people's movements; editors of missionary and other religious periodicals; fraternal delegates from European student movements, and missionary societies; one or two professors from each educational institution; influential ministers and laymen.

The program will undoubtedly be one of the strongest ever given and it is expected that it will surpass all previous conventions in attention. There will be at least forty-five separate conferences on fields, phases of work and special matters of interest to students. An educational exhibit illustrating the progress of Christianity throughout the world, will be given. Some of the best speakers available have been secured and their addresses will be worth hearing.

The previous conferences have been held at Cleveland in 1891 with an attendance of six hundred and eighty; at Detroit in 1894, with an attendance of thirteen hundred and twenty-five; at Cleveland in 1898, with an attendance of two thousand two hundred and twenty-one; and at Toronto in 1902, with an attendance of three thousand.

COLUMBIAN DEBATING SOCIETY.

The question debated last Friday night is the one which was selected for the next Inter-society Debate. It is, Resolved, That the Panama Canal should be built by the contract system rather than by the United States Government directly. Those speaking on the affirmative were Messrs. Leon Pretzfelder, M. S. Ross and Eugene Young, while the negative was supported by Messrs. J. P. Whittinghill, Benj. G. Steenerson and Wm. H. Woodwell. Many strong arguments were presented in favor of each method of constructing the great canal, and it is believed that the question is well balanced. The judges announced their decision for the negative, and selected the following team for the debate with the Needham Society: Messrs. Eugene Young, M. S. Ross, and Wm. H. Woodwell, with Mr. Benj. G. Steenerson as alternate.

DRAMATIC CLUB.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Dramatic Club was held in West Hall Friday. It was decided to give three farces at the National Rifles' Armory on the 19th of March and after the performance to have dancing. It is essential to the success of the Club and to a final play that the students turn out en-masse and support this hitherto neglected branch of the social life of the school. The gift of Mr. Southern and Miss Marlowe has stimulated enthusiasm in the dramatic line, and new members are applying daily for admission into the Society.

As the success of the final performance and the final performance in fact, depends upon this next public appearance of the Society, the help of both faculty and student body is requested. The liabilities of former years must be wiped out to make the society a success. So let March 19 be held by every student as a night for a good time and to clinch the success of this branch of the school.

DENTAL

Mr. Nealey, of the senior class, has been reported seriously ill with arysipelas. His classmates note this fact with regret and hope to see him back at his old place soon completely recovered.

Dr. Cobey, too, has been on the sick list, suffering from the prevailing disease, the grippe. His recovery is cause for congratulation, and his return to duty as demonstrator in porcelain inlay is appreciated by his class. The Doctor has changed considerably though. During his enforced retirement the razor had a rest, too, and he has come back with what the class wits very appropriately termed a growth of "ciliated epithelium" on his chin. Some, who had been warned beforehand of this change, manifested no surprise; others stood afar off and speculated as to who the new demonstrator was.

Dr. Lewis announced recently that three members of the senior class were eligible for graduation at the mid-winter Convocation of the University, to be held on Washington's Birthday, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the Belasco Theatre.

It is the desire of the University that the senior class attend in a body on this occasion. The classes will march in the order which will be announced on the bulletin board some time beforehand, and will have reserved seats.

Mr. Britton, editor for the senior class on The Mall Board of Editors, urges the members of the class to have their pictures taken as soon as possible, so that there may be no delay in getting them in to the publishers on time.

Still lots of work in the infirmary: patients being turned away every day because the men are too busy to handle them. A man fell asleep the other day while waiting for attention and fell off the bench, causing much excitement among the patients.

PENNANTS.

An official pennant has been adopted by the Presidents' Council and a different form authorized as a field pennant. The official pennant measures three feet in length by one foot across at the staff end. It displays a cross in continental buff on both sides on a field of continental blue, extending to the sides and both ends, with the center line of the transverse arm eight inches from and parallel with the staff end of the pennant, and carrying on one by the intersection of the two arms side, occupying the space formed of the cross, a line print of the seal. The field pennant shows the letters "G. W." in continental buff on a field of continental blue.

The Association of Class Presidents has also adopted a pennant. It is the regular triangular shape, of buff, with the words, "George Washington" in blue extending from the staff to the point.

MALL EDITOR.

Because of the resignation of Mr. Hemmick, College, '07, has been obliged to select another class editor. While this resignation is unfortunate, in that it comes at such a late time when the editor ought to be in the midst of his work, yet with energetic work, Mr. Stonebraker who has been selected as his successor, can catch up with the other editors. Let all '07 men lend Mr. Stonebraker all the assistance possible, because so far not a thing has been done toward getting up the representation of the class for The Mall.

Mr. W. H. Woodwell has been appointed debating editor and will look after all things concerning that phase of the University for The Mall.

NEW RULE RELATING TO SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Presidents' council of the University met Friday last and made several changes in existing conditions. Regulations were adopted affecting holders of scholarships in the University under which a scholarship will be revoked upon recommendation of the faculty in case the holder of it fails to obtain a general average of 85 per centum on the work of any term or whose deportment is unsatisfactory.

SENIOR CLASS.

On the evening of Washington's birthday the senior class will hold a George Washington's Birthday celebration brought up to date. It will take place in the library of the college at 8 o'clock and those seniors who want to learn some heretofore unpublished tradition and facts concerning our illustrious god-father and his times will do well to be on hand. Hatchet cakes will be used to chop down cherry tree ice cream, and the punch will "have a cherry in it." After the celebration the class will elect the officers who are to hold forth on class night.

ASSEMBLY.

At last Wednesday's assembly we were treated to three delightful numbers by Miss Francis Bethune, '07. The songs were "Du bist die Rube," Schubert, "Oh Dry Those Tears."

DANCE BY THE CANOE CLUB.

The George Washington Canoe Club gave a very enjoyable dance Friday evening in the library of the College. The room was very tastefully decorated with University and Club flags. Everything looked favorable for an enthusiastic and prosperous season. Another dance will be given March 21.

CLUBS, NOTICE.

A notice has been published that all Clubs that wish to go into the Mall must have their pictures taken and hand in their roll of members and officers during this month. Attention is again called to this.

KAPPA ALPHA DANCE.

The Kappa Alpha Fraternity gave another of the delightful dances for which it is so well known, last Friday. The three rooms, with floors in perfect condition, were thrown together, and the best of music was furnished. An unusually large number of young ladies were present, among those present being Misses Morton, of Memphis, Tenn., and Riles, of Florida, now attending the Bristol School; Misses Smith, Lee, Fry, Fields, Windbegger, Young, Owen, Knox, and Mrs. Brooks. Refreshments were served at twelve.

CHESS FRIENDS ATTENTION.

A challenge to a series of games has just been received from the Chess Club of the University of Virginia. As the sole surviving member of last year's Chess Club the undersigned does not feel competent to accept the challenge, but if there are any men in the University willing and capable of undertaking the proposition, he will be glad to hear from them. Address E. P. GATES, College, '08.

FRESHMAN SUITS.

Last year's Freshman Varsity B. B. team was organized for the first time in the University. The team played all the High School teams and some games with the different minor teams of Washington.

The custom is one which should be continued in the University and should a team be organized the suits and equipment of last year's team will be gladly turned over to the new manager.

DRAWINGS.

Mr. W. M. Patterson, Law, '07, has submitted some excellent drawings for The Mall.

Mister "X"—in Class on Federal Procedure—(staccato voice): Professor, why didn't the framers of the Constitution insert in the judicial clause the words "all cases" instead of "cases in law and equity?" It would have been much clearer.

COLLEGE NEWS.

The University of Pennsylvania has recently lost a number of her best candidates for the track team. The same hoodoo that pursued her foot ball team seems to be after the other teams. They are leaving there to go to the other universities.

Harvard has voted to bar 'varsity teams to freshmen and graduate students who have not passed the entrance examinations, and who have not done a year's satisfactory work. It further resolved to allow a man to be eligible only three years for a Varsity team.

Johns Hopkins and the University of Virginia have arranged a chess match to take place February 22 and 23.

By a recent experiment it has been found that potassium iodine unites with sulphur (under pressure) with the following reaction: KI plus 2S—Kiss. Care should be taken to perform the experiment in the dark, as some of the material is explosive, and the reaction violent.
